CONSTRUCTION AND RENOVATION PROGRESS

(October 2026) - “As we move into the cooler months, we wanted to share an update on the new Transportation and Logistics Building and the exciting progress being made.

If you’re driving along East Kanesville Boulevard, you may catch a glimpse of the progress. All precast concrete and structural masonry walls are now complete, and the construction team is working to enclose the building so interior work can continue throughout the winter. Roofing work is nearing completion, with window and door installation expected to begin soon.

Inside, plumbing and electrical work is progressing, with concrete floor pours expected to follow shortly. These milestones will help move the project into the next phase of interior construction.

Outside, site work continues despite September’s record rainfall, and most utilities have now been connected to the building. The remaining exterior utility work is expected to continue throughout the fall, with paving for the new parking lots planned for spring.”
